

Riding the second wave

An opportunity to reflect, re-energise and re-focus
as a team

Copyright © 2020 100% Care Pty Ltd

All rights reserved. No part of this publication may be reproduced stored in a retrieval system, or transmitted, in any form or by any means without prior written consent of the copyright owner, nor be otherwise circulated in any form of binding or cover other than that in which it is published and without a similar condition being imposed on the subsequent purchaser.

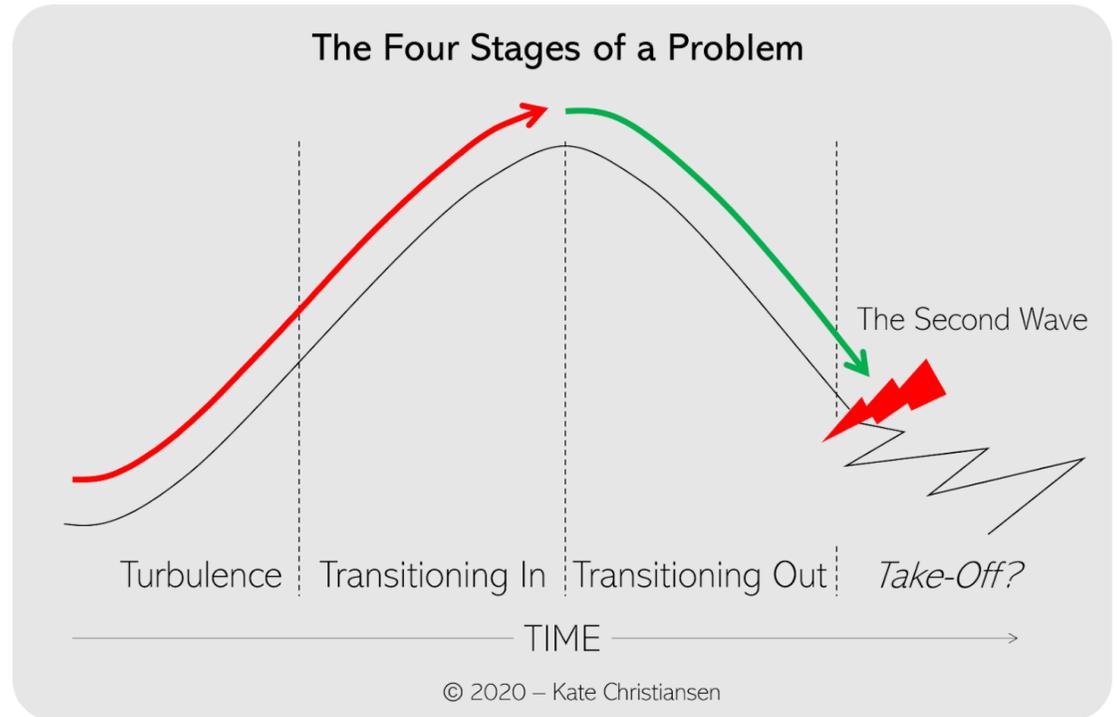

The Conversation Starter

Which elements of this article resonated most with you?

Where were you and where are you now?

The second wave throws us back into Turbulence when our hearts and minds expect Take-Off

How do you feel about it?

The second wave throws us back into Turbulence when our hearts and minds expect Take-Off

What's
changed
about our situation
as a team?

What hasn't changed?

What does this mean
in terms of where we were going?

What does it mean
in terms of how we were getting there?

What hidden opportunities haven't we considered?

How do we need to think differently?

What do we need to do
differently?

A young boy is seen from behind, holding a large, glowing paper lantern. The lantern is lit from within, and the boy is holding the base where the flame is. The background is a soft, warm sunset sky with a few other lanterns visible in the distance. The overall mood is peaceful and hopeful.

What do we need to let go of?

What do we need to do now?

Discover more
katechristiansen.com.au